The FootSteps™ R2 features a new and improved increased-rigidity shell encased in a tri-laminar EVA/poron outer casing. The polypropylene shell is anatomically designed to provide maximum control and support without sacrificing volume in the shoe. The Poron topcover provides unmatched shock attenuation. Poron performance urethanes provide the highest degree of shock absorption, outperforming competitive materials to offer the best cushion against impact.

As always, the R2 is only available to healthcare professionals and is not available in retail stores.
